

SP4CE

Safe Place 4 Communication Excellence

Hi. I'm Leonie.

It's an amazing experience to be living and working in Australia.

One of the major drawbacks, however, can be language – even when you are at the upper levels. It's almost like the schooling system and your own exposure has got you to a certain level and now you are on your own.

As I'm sure you have experienced, in Australia people expect you to have native-like language skills and many locals treat you differently when that is not the case. It can feel incredibly frustrating when you are held back from getting to where you need to go.

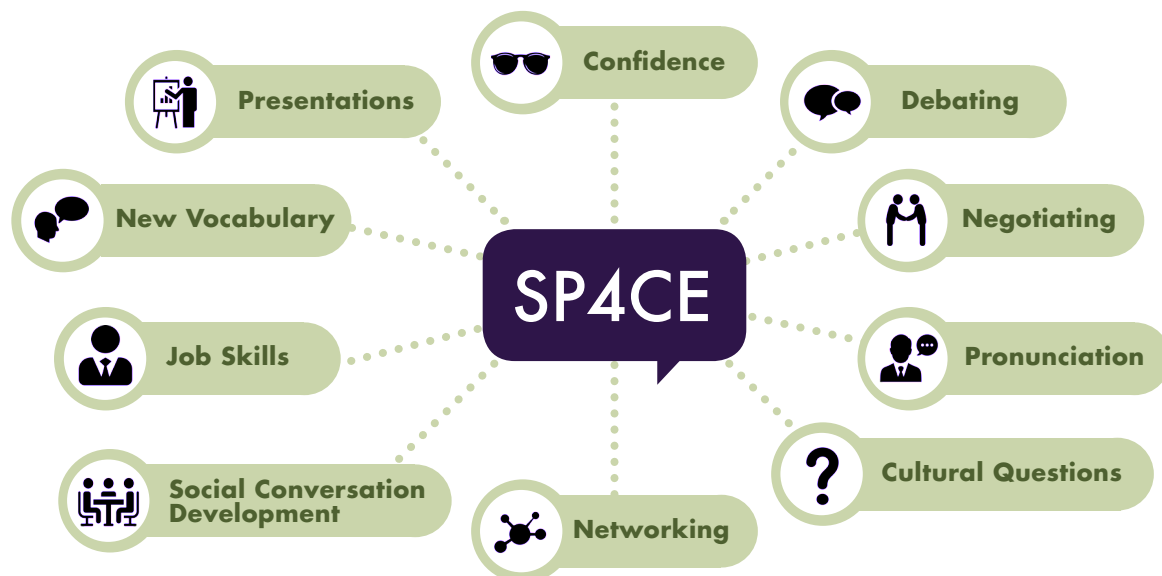

That's why we created SP4CE – a Safe Place 4 Communication Excellence.

SP4CE is where people like you come together to develop communication skills, get feedback for improving weaker areas and build strategies towards being a great Business English communicator.

I know we can help you break through to your next level in communication and become more of your authentic self. In fact, I'm so convinced I the first session is on me!

Yes, that's right, I want you to have the first session for free.

We have avoided making this a rigid course because an off-the-shelf solution will rarely meet your needs. That is why we created this dynamic hour-and-a-half of tailored feedback and development in our friendly SP4CE.
